The International & Comparative Law Display is located on the 4th floor of Wheat Law Library. We encourage you to come in and view the achievements of The University of Kansas School of Law faculty (past and present) in the field of international and comparative law scholarship. This display goes back to the late 1800's. Following is a chronological listing, by the starting year of tenure by faculty member. Items are grouped by author, and include scholarship produced before or during their tenure at the University of Kansas School of Law. Research for this display was conducted in early 2008 and the display was established in April of 2008. It is updated as additional works are published.
