Douglas County Legal Diversity Fellowship

2025-2026 Application

Please read this carefully before applying for the Douglas County Legal Diversity Fellowship. It explains the commitments you must make if you are selected to participate in the Fellowship.

There are four parts to the application:

1. Application Form
2. Statement of Interest
3. Resume
4. Unofficial Transcript

You must submit your application to the Committee by emailing a PDF to Prof. Carter at jordancarter@ku.edu, as well as your resume and unofficial transcript. The application and statement of interest may be combined into one PDF. The deadline to apply is April 1, 2025. We will notify Fellows of placements by the end of April.

The Committee will review these documents. The Fellowship is a fall semester and spring semester commitment. If you choose to receive course credit, you'll enroll in a Field Placement through Prof. Jewell, which we can help facilitate. Per the ABA rules, you may seek course credit or payment for working at a nonprofit or governmental entity. You may only be paid (no course credit) for your work at a private law firm.

You may not leave the Fellowship without the Committee's express consent to do so. Students must schedule their classes so they are available to work with their assigned employers for 10 hours each week of the semester (10 weeks each semester). You shall also attend periodic networking activities, which will be scheduled ahead of time.
